does your packaging supplier listen to what you really need?

Discovery Flexibles like to make the first move when it comes to offering improvement and cost saving. We have used our fifty five years' experience in the packaging industry to develop a new gravure print technique that can provide you with high quality packaging at a reduced cost. ePrint is the result of several years' work examining how we can support and deliver our customers the most cost effective packaging solutions possible.

we work with you, not for you

We work in partnership with you at the design stage to reduce the origination costs by utilising our ePrint philosophies from first sight of the original concepts. At the very early preliminary artwork stage we offer suggestions for modifications to designs in order to make the most eye-catching, yet cost effective product for you. Our ePrint perception is to maximise impact and minimise costs.

The ePrint philosophy is nothing new, but our methodology and outcomes are. Historically, there have been multiple reasons why consumers believed that this type of approach was an extreme compromise. Technology has since evolved and these 'compromises' are now dramatically reduced.

ePrint has not been developed in isolation; it is the result of a combined effort by Discovery Flexibles and AF Reprographics, each utilising their own expertise to ensure we offer you a dependable product with minimal amount of colours.

we handle the tasks, you benefit.
